- 28.2 We may assign our rights under this Client Agreement to one or more of our Affiliates or any other person as we think fit by giving you notice in writing, which must specify a date on which the assignment will become effective.

30. FORCE MAJEURE

- 30.1 We will not be liable for any failure or delay in performing any of our obligations under this Client Agreement, and any failure or delay in performing our obligations will not constitute a breach of this Client Agreement, if and to the extent that such failure or delay is due to a Force Majeure Event.

30.2 If we are unable to perform any or all of our obligations under this Client Agreement due to a Force Majeure Event, we will promptly notify you of the nature and extent of the relevant Force Majeure Event.

31. GOVERNING LAW AND DISPUTE RESOLUTION

31.1 This Client Agreement is governed by, and will be construed in accordance with, the laws of Hong Kong and you agree to submit to the non-exclusive jurisdiction of the Hong Kong courts.

31.2 At the sole option of Huarong and in its absolute discretion, any dispute, controversy, difference or claim arising out of or relating to this Client Agreement, including the existence, validity, interpretation, performance, breach or termination thereof or any dispute regarding non-contractual obligations arising out of or relating to it shall be referred to and finally resolved by arbitration administered by the Hong Kong International Arbitration Centre under the Hong Kong International Arbitration Centre Administered Arbitration Rules in force when the notice of arbitration is submitted. The law of this arbitration clause shall be Hong Kong law. The seat of arbitration shall be Hong Kong.

31.3 Notwithstanding the above, in the case of an individual, the Client shall be able to elect for any such disputes to be managed and resolved under the Financial Dispute Resolution Scheme administered by the FDRC.

32. MISCELLANEOUS

32.1 Time will be of the essence in respect of all of your obligations under this Client Agreement (including in respect of any Transaction).

32.4 Each of the term of this Client Agreement is severable and distinct from the others. The illegality, invalidity or unenforceability of any provision of this Client Agreement will not affect the legality, validity or enforceability of this Client Agreement nor the legality, validity or enforceability of any other provisions of this Client Agreement. Such provision shall be deemed to be rescinded or modified in accordance with any such law, rule or regulation. In all other respects, this Client Agreement shall continue and remain in full force and effect.

32.5 We shall notify you in writing of any material change in the information contained in this Client Agreement.

32.6 This Client Agreement together with the terms of any statements or confirmations given by us to you (as may be amended from time to time), contains all of the terms of and constitutes the entire agreement between us and you and supersedes all previous agreements and arrangements (if any) made between us and you in relation to the Account.

ANNEXURE 1 – RISK DISCLOSURE STATEMENT

This risk disclosure statement forms an integral part of the Client Agreement. You should read this statement carefully.

Where we are providing the Services to you or for your Accounts, you should inform yourself and be aware of the risks generally and, in particular, the risks warnings set out below. However, please note that not all of the following risk disclosures may be relevant to your particular circumstances or the Services currently provided to you.

You should further note that the following is not an exhaustive list of all the risks of engaging us to provide the Services and/or Accounts. You should, therefore, carefully consider whether the transactions you are proposing to enter into are suitable for you in light of your own experience, financial position and investment objectives. You should be aware that this is your sole responsibility.

Risk of Securities Trading

The prices of Securities fluctuate, sometimes dramatically. The price of a Security may move up or down, and may become valueless. It is as likely that Losses will be incurred rather than a profit made as a result of buying and selling Securities.

Risk of Trading Main Board Stocks

1. Product Knowledge and Risk Tolerance

Before trading in any Securities, investors should carefully read the most up-to-date prospectuses/listing documents, financial statements, announcements and other information published either on the issuers' websites, HKEx corporate (<http://www.hkex.com.hk>) and HKExnews websites (<http://www.hkexnews.hk>) to learn about the product features and risk factors involved. Investors should not trade any Securities unless it suits their investment objectives, financial resources and risk tolerance.

2. Price and Liquidity Risks

The price of any Securities may go up or down so there is an inherent risk that Losses may be incurred as a result of buying and selling Securities. Security prices may also fluctuate due to various market factors, and investors' exposure to risk may vary according to the type of orders they input (e.g. short selling orders, market orders, at auction orders), the way the transaction is financed (e.g. Margin financing) and the nature of the Security product concerned (e.g. whether it is leveraged or issued with a fixed expiry date). Liquidity of Securities may also fluctuate, resulting in situations where an investor may not be able to buy or sell the Security in a timely manner at their preferred price range if the turnover volume was to drop significantly.

3. Counterparty risk

Some Securities such as structured products and exchange traded funds (“ETFs”) may carry exposure to counterparty risk of financial intermediaries involved in structuring or managing the products concerned or providing liquidity to support trading of the Securities. The following table summarises some common types of financial intermediaries involved in structured products and ETFs:

Product Types		Types of Financial Intermediaries
		Issuer/Manager	Securities Market Makers (SMMs)

1	Structured Products (e.g. derivative warrants and callable bull/bear contracts (“CBBs”))	*	-
2	Exchange Traded Funds (ETFs)
	(a) Full Replication and Representative Sampling Strategies	*	*
	(b) Synthetic Replication Strategies	*	*

Risk of Trading GEM Stocks

GEM stocks involve a high investment risk. In particular, companies may list on GEM with neither a track record of profitability nor any obligation to forecast future profitability. GEM stocks may be very volatile and illiquid.

You should make the decision to invest in GEM stocks only after due and careful consideration. The greater risk profile and other characteristics of GEM mean that it is a market more suited to professional and other sophisticated investors.

Current information on GEM stocks may only be found on the internet website operated by the SEHK. GEM Companies are usually not required to issue paid announcements in gazetted newspapers.

You should seek independent professional advice if you are uncertain of or have not understood any aspects of this risk disclosure statement or the nature and risks involved in trading GEM stocks.

Risk of Client Assets Received or Held Outside Hong Kong

Client assets received or held by the licensed or registered person outside Hong Kong are subject to the Applicable Laws and regulations of the relevant overseas jurisdiction which may be different from the SFO and the rules made thereunder. Consequently, such Client assets may not enjoy the same protection as those Client assets received or held in Hong Kong.

Risk of providing an Authority to Repledge your Securities Collateral

There is a risk that if you provide the licensed or registered person with an authority that allows such person to apply your Securities or Securities collateral in accordance with a Securities borrowing and lending agreement, repledge your Securities collateral for financial accommodation or deposit your Securities collateral as collateral for the discharge and satisfaction of its settlement obligations and liabilities.

If your Securities or Securities collateral are received or held by the licensed or registered person in Hong Kong, the above arrangement is permissible only if you consent in writing. Moreover, unless you are a professional investor, your authority must specify the period for which it is current and the period must be limited to not more than 12 months. If you are a professional investor, these restrictions do not apply.

Additionally, your authority may be deemed to be renewed, without your written consent, if the licensed or registered person issues you a reminder at least 14 days before the expiry of the authority, and you do not object to such deemed renewal before the expiry date of your then existing authority.

You are not required by any laws to sign these authorities. However, an authority may be required by licensed or registered persons, for example, to facilitate Margin lending to you or to allow your Securities or Securities collateral to be lent to, or deposited as collateral with, third parties. The licensed or registered person should explain to you the purposes for which one of these authorities is to be used.

If you sign one of these authorities and your Securities or Securities collateral are lent to or deposited with third parties, those third parties will have a lien or charge on your Securities or Securities collateral. Although the licensed or registered person is responsible to you for Securities or Securities collateral lent or deposited under your authority, a default by it could result in the Loss of your Securities or Securities collateral.

A cash securities account not involving securities borrowing and lending is available from most licensed or registered persons. If you do not require Margin facilities or do not wish your Securities or Securities collateral to be lent or pledged, do not sign the above authorities and ask to open this type of cash securities account.

Risk of Providing an Authority to hold mail or to direct mail to Third Parties

If you provide the licensed or registered person with an authority to hold mail or to direct mail to third parties, it is important for you to promptly collect in person all contract notes and statements of your account and review them in detail to ensure that any anomalies or mistakes can be detected in a timely fashion.

Risk of Margin Trading

The risk of Loss in financing a transaction by deposit of collateral is significant. You may sustain Losses in excess of your cash and any other assets deposited as collateral with the licensed or registered person. Market conditions may make it impossible to execute contingent orders, such as “stop-loss” or “stop-limit” orders. You may be called on at short notice to make additional Margin deposits or interest payments. If the required Margin deposits or interest payments are not made within the prescribed time, your collateral may be liquidated without your consent. You should closely monitor your position, as in some market conditions Huarong may be unable to contact you or provide you with sufficient time to make the required deposits and forced liquidation may be necessary. Moreover, you will remain liable for any resulting deficit in your Account and interest charged on your Account. You should therefore carefully consider whether such a financing arrangement is suitable in light of your own financial position and investment objectives.

Risk of Trading Nasdaq-Amex Securities at the SEHK

The securities under the Nasdaq-Amex Pilot Programme (“PP”) are aimed at sophisticated investors. You should consult the licensed or registered person and become familiarised with the PP before trading in the PP Securities. You should be aware that the PP Securities are not regulated as a primary or secondary listing on the Main Board or the GEM of the SEHK.

Some risks associated with Structured Products

1. Issuer Default Risks

In the event that a structured product issuer becomes Insolvent and defaults on their listed Securities, investors will be considered as unsecured creditors and will have no preferential claims to any assets held by the issuer. Investors should therefore pay close attention to the financial strength and credit worthiness of structured product issuers.

Note: “Issuers Credit Rating” showing the credit ratings of individual issuers is now available under the Derivative Warrant Issuer and Liquidity Provider Information sub-section under Derivative Warrants and under CBBCs section on the HKEx corporate website.

2. Uncollateralised Product Risks

Uncollateralised structured products are not asset-backed. In the event of the issuer becoming bankrupt, investors can lose their entire investment. Investors should read the listing documents to determine if a product is uncollateralised.

3. Gearing Risks

Structured products such as derivative warrants and CBBCs are leveraged and can change in value rapidly according to the gearing ratio relative to the underlying assets. Investors should be aware that the value of a structured product may fall to zero resulting in a total Loss of the initial investment.

4. Expiry Considerations

Structured products have an expiry date after which the issue may become worthless. Investors should be aware of the expiry time horizon and choose a product with an appropriate lifespan for their trading strategy.

5. Extraordinary Price Movements

The price of a structured product may not match its theoretical price due to external influences such as market supply and demand factors. As a result, the actual traded prices can be higher or lower than the theoretical price.

6. Foreign Exchange Risks

Investors trading structured products with underlying assets not denominated in Hong Kong dollars are also exposed to exchange rate risks. Currency rate fluctuations can adversely affect the underlying asset value, also affecting the structured product price.

7. Liquidity Risks

The Exchange requires all structured product issuers to appoint a liquidity provider for each individual issue. The role of liquidity providers is to provide two way quotes to facilitate trading of their products. In the event that a liquidity provider defaults or ceases to fulfil its role, investors may not be able to buy or sell the product until a new liquidity provider has been assigned.

Some additional Risks involved in Trading Derivative Warrants

1. Time Decay Risks

All things being equal, the value of a derivative warrant will decay over time as it approaches its expiry date. Derivative warrants should therefore not be viewed as long-term investments.

2. Volatility Risks

Prices of derivative warrants can increase or decrease in line with the implied volatility of underlying asset price. Investors should be aware of the underlying asset volatility.

Some additional Risks involved in trading CBBCs

1. Mandatory Call Risks

Investors trading CBBCs should be aware of their intraday “knockout” or mandatory call feature. A CBBC will cease trading when the underlying asset value equals the mandatory call price/level as stated in the listing documents. Investors will only be entitled to the residual value of the terminated CBBC as calculated by the product issuer in accordance with the listing documents. Investors should also note that the residual value can be zero.

2. Funding Costs

The issue price of a CBBC includes funding costs. Funding costs are gradually reduced over time as the CBBC moves towards expiry. The longer the duration of the CBBC, the higher the total funding costs. In the event that a CBBC is called, investors will lose the funding costs for the entire lifespan of the CBBC. The formula for calculating the funding costs are stated in the listing documents.

Some Risks associated with Exchange Traded Funds (“ETFs”)

1. Market Risks

ETFs are typically designed to track the performance of certain indices, market sectors, or groups of assets such as stocks, bonds, or commodities. ETF managers may use different strategies to achieve this goal, but in general they do not have the discretion to take defensive positions in declining markets. Investors must be prepared to bear the risk of Loss and volatility associated with the underlying index/ assets.

2. Tracking Errors

Tracking errors refer to the disparity in performance between an ETF and its underlying index/assets. Tracking errors can arise due to factors such as the impact of transaction fees and expenses incurred to the ETF, changes in composition of the underlying index/assets, and the ETF manager’s replication strategy. (The common replication strategies include full replication/representative sampling and synthetic replication which are discussed in more detail below.)

3. Trading at a Discount or Premium

An ETF may be traded at a discount or premium to its Net Asset Value (“NAV”). This price discrepancy is caused by supply and demand factors, and may be particularly likely to emerge during periods of high market volatility and uncertainty. This phenomenon may also be observed for ETFs tracking specific markets or sectors that are subject to direct investment restrictions.

4. Foreign Exchange Risks

Investors trading ETFs with underlying assets not denominated in Hong Kong dollars are also exposed to exchange rate risk. Currency rate fluctuations can adversely affect the underlying asset value, also affecting the ETF price.

5. Liquidity Risks

Securities Market Makers (“SMMs”) are participants of the SEHK that provide liquidity to facilitate trading in ETFs. Although most ETFs are supported by one or more SMMs, there is no assurance that active trading will be maintained. In the event that the SMMs default or cease to fulfil their role, investors may not be able to buy or sell the product.

6. Counterparty Risks involved in ETFs with different Replication Strategies

(a) Full Replication and Representative Sampling Strategies

An ETF using a full replication strategy generally aims to invest in all constituent stocks/assets in the same weightings as its benchmark. ETFs adopting a representative sampling strategy will invest in some, but not all of the relevant constituent stocks/assets. For ETFs that invest directly in the underlying assets rather than through synthetic instruments issued by third parties, counterparty risks tend to be of less concern.

(b) Synthetic Replication Strategies

ETFs utilising a synthetic replication strategy use swaps or other derivative instruments to gain exposure to a benchmark. Currently, synthetic replication ETFs can be further categorised into two forms:

(a) Swap-based ETFs

Total return swaps allow ETF managers to replicate the benchmark performance of ETFs without purchasing the underlying assets.

Swap-based ETFs are exposed to counterparty risk of the swap dealers and may suffer Losses if such dealers default or fail to honour their contractual commitments.

(b) Derivative Embedded ETFs

ETF managers may also use other derivative instruments to synthetically replicate the economic benefits of the relevant benchmark. The derivative instruments may be issued by one or multiple issuers.

Derivative embedded ETFs are subject to counterparty risks of the derivative instruments' issuers and may suffer Losses if such issuers default or fail to honour their contractual commitments.

Risks of Trading Bonds

1. The Client has to understand that the trading of bonds involves certain degree of risk and there is no 100% guarantee of positive return but loss may be incurred. Investing in emerging markets bonds involves special consideration and higher risks, such as greater price volatility, less developed regulatory and legal framework, economic, social and political instability, etc. Before making a bond transaction, the Client should seek for independent and professional/financial/tax advice if needed.
2. Default or Credit Risk
There is a risk that the bond issuer fails to promptly pay the Client the interest or principal if a credit event or default occurs on the bond issuer. A bond's own credit rating is assigned by credit rating agencies, such as Standard & Poor's and Moody's. The higher the rating, the better the Client's chance of receiving payment for the principal and interest. In addition, the interest payment of such bond product and settlement on the maturity date will be subject to the financial position of the issuer/guarantor. The Client should be aware that if the issuer/guarantor bankrupts or liquidates prior to the maturity date, the Client may lose all the Client's investment.
3. Interest Rate Risk
In general, the price of bonds with fixed coupon rate drops if interest rate rises. If the Client wants to sell the bond before the maturity date, the proceeds the Client receives may be less than the original amount of investment.
4. Exchange Rate Risk

If the bond is denominated in a foreign currency, the Client will be exposed to exchange rate fluctuation. When the foreign currency depreciates, the Client may suffer loss in the principal and interest the client receives when converting into the Client's local currency.

5. Liquidity Risk

After purchasing a bond, if the Clients are in need of cash or intend to use such fund for other purposes before maturity, the Clients may not be able to cash in the bond as a result of an illiquid secondary market. Some bonds may have designated market makers to provide liquidity. If the Clients hold a bond which allows them to sell it back to the issuer before maturity (i.e. a puttable bond) and they wish to sell it, the issuer must buy back their bond under the conditions specified in the offer document.

6. Political Risk

Un-popular governments, wars and social unrest can affect the risk level of investments linked to these countries.

7. Policy Risk

Changes in government policies and regulations can also impact on investments.

Risks of Trading through the Shanghai-Hong Kong Stock Connect (“Shanghai Connect”) and Shenzhen-Hong Kong Stock Connect (“Shenzhen Connect”, together with the Shanghai Connect, “China Connect”)

China Connect is a trading links program developed by, among others, SEHK, Shanghai Stock Exchange (“SSE”), Shenzhen Stock Exchange (“SZSE”), China Securities Depository and Clearing Corporation Limited (“ChinaClear”) and Hong Kong Securities Clearing Company Limited (“HKSCC”) to establish mutual stock market access between Shanghai and Hong Kong, and Shenzhen and Hong Kong respectively.

China Connect is currently comprised of a Northbound Trading Link and a Southbound Trading Link. Under the Northbound Trading Link, investors, through their appointed Hong Kong brokers and a securities trading service company established by SEHK, may trade eligible securities listed on the SSE and SZSE (“China Connect Securities”) by routing orders to SSE or SZSE respectively.

For the Northbound Trading Link of Shanghai Connect, the eligible securities as determined from time to time include all the constituent stocks of the SSE 180 Index and the SSE 380 Index. For the Northbound Trading Link of Shenzhen Connect, the eligible securities as determined from time to time include all the constituent stocks of the SZSE Component Index and the SZSE Small/Mid Cap Innovation Index, each with an average daily market capitalization of RMB 6 billion or above in the previous six months (or since the date of listing, if it is less than six months). For the Northbound Trading Link of both Shanghai Connect and Shenzhen Connect, the eligible securities as determined from time to time also include all the respective SSE-listed or SZSE-listed A Shares that are not included as constituent stocks of the relevant indices but which have corresponding H Shares listed and traded on SEHK, except for (i) the respective SSE-listed or SZSE-listed shares which are not traded in RMB; and (ii) the respective SSE-listed or SZSE-listed shares which are placed under “risk alert” by the SSE or SZSE respectively.

1. Quota Limitation Risk

Trading through the Northbound Trading Link is subject to a daily quota (“Daily Quota”). The Daily Quota is imposed to limit the maximum net buy value of cross-boundary trades under China Connect for each day and will be reset every day. In particular, if the Northbound Daily Quota drops to zero or the Northbound Daily Quota is exceeded during the opening call auction session or the continuous auction session (or closing call auction session for SZSE), new buy orders will be rejected for the remainder of the day (though investors are allowed to sell their cross-boundary securities or input order cancellation requests regardless of the quota balance). Quota limitations may restrict investors’ ability to invest in China Connect Securities through China Connect on a timely basis, and investors may not be able to effectively pursue their investment strategies.

2. Settlement Risk

HKSCC is responsible for the clearing, settlement and the provision of depository, nominee and other related services of the trades executed by Hong Kong market participants and investors. China Connect Securities traded through China Connect are issued in scripless form. Therefore, Hong Kong and overseas investors do not hold any physical China Connect Securities acquired through the Northbound Trading Link. Hong Kong and overseas investors are required to maintain their China Connect Securities with their brokers’ or custodians’ stock accounts with the Central Clearing and Settlement System operated by HKSCC for clearing securities listed or traded on SEHK (“Central Clearing System”).

In relation to sell orders for China Connect Securities, SEHK conducts pre-trade checks on exchange participants (“Pre-Trade Checking”) to ensure there is no overselling by any individual exchange participant. Due to this Pre-Trade Checking requirement, an investor may be required to deliver the China Connect Securities to the exchange participant in advance of, or at the time of, placing the sell order.

If the exchange participant becomes insolvent while it is holding or safekeeping the China Connect Securities, there is a risk that any creditor of the exchange participant may assert that such China Connect Securities are owned by the exchange participant in question, if it is not made clear that the exchange participant acts as a custodian in respect of such China Connect Securities. Given the short timescale within which China Connect Securities are required to be settled, should an alternative broker be required (whether due to a systems failure or otherwise), there is also a risk that investors or their broker will be unable to find an alternative broker to execute and settle orders within the requisite timeframes.

3. Suspension Risk

SEHK, SSE and SZSE each reserves the right to suspend the relevant Northbound and/or Southbound Trading Link(s) if necessary to ensure a fair and orderly market and that risks are managed prudently. Consent from the relevant regulator would be sought before a suspension is applied. In the event of such a suspension, investors' ability to access the PRC market will be adversely affected.

4. Manual and Block Trades

Manual trade, block trade, internalization or reporting are not allowed for China Connect Securities.

5. Restrictions on Day Trading

Day (turnaround) trading is not permitted on the A Share market. If an investor buys China Connect Securities on "T" day, the investor will only be able to sell China Connect Securities on or after "T+1" day. This will limit investors' investment options, in particular, where investors wish to sell China Connect Securities on a particular trading day.

6. Differences in Trading Day

China Connect will only operate on days when both the PRC and Hong Kong markets are open for trading and when banks in both markets are open on the corresponding settlement days. Therefore, it is possible that China Connect is closed and investors cannot trade when the A Share market is open for trading due to the differences in business days and public holidays between the PRC and Hong Kong. Investors should note the business days of China Connect and may be subject to a risk of price fluctuations in the A Share market during the time when China Connect is closed as a result.

7. Operational Risk

China Connect is premised on the functioning of the operational systems of the relevant market participants. Market participants are able to participate in China Connect subject to meeting certain information technology capabilities, risk management and other requirements that are specified by the relevant Exchange and/or clearing house. The securities regimes and legal systems of the PRC and Hong Kong markets differ significantly. Therefore, market participants may need to address issues arising from the differences on an on-going basis.

Further, China Connect requires the routing of orders across the border of Hong Kong and the PRC. This requires the development of new information technology systems on the part of SEHK and exchange participants (i.e. the system used for the trading of China Connect Securities on SSE and SZSE respectively, as operated by SSE and SZSE respectively to which exchange participants need to connect to).

There is no assurance that these systems will function properly or will continue to be adapted to changes and developments in both markets. If the relevant systems fail to function properly, any trading of China Connect Securities in both markets through China Connect could be disrupted. As a result, an investor's ability to access the A Share market (and hence to pursue their investment strategies) may be adversely affected.

8. Nominee Arrangements in Holding China Connect Securities

HKSCC is the "nominee holder" of China Connect Securities and holds China Connect Securities on behalf of Hong Kong and overseas investors.

Under the applicable China Connect rules, investors enjoy the rights and benefits of China Connect Securities acquired through China Connect in accordance with applicable laws and therefore would be recognized as having beneficial ownership in China Connect Securities under the applicable PRC laws. HKSCC does not have any proprietary interest in China Connect Securities and such proprietary interest rests with the beneficial owners under applicable PRC laws and ChinaClear rules. Investors, as beneficial owners of China Connect Securities, shall exercise their shareholder rights in relation to China Connect Securities through HKSCC as "nominee holder", in accordance with applicable Central Clearing System rules. Separately, there is uncertainty in relation to a beneficial owners' ability to take legal action for the enforcement of rights to the PRC courts. Consequently, investors cannot ensure that their ownership of China Connect Securities or title thereto is assured in all circumstances.

9. Recalling of Eligible China Connect Securities

A stock may be recalled from the scope of eligible stocks for trading via China Connect, and in such event, the stock can only be sold but restricted from being bought. This may adversely affect investors' abilities to implement their investment strategies.

10. Risk of Default of ChinaClear

HKSCC and ChinaClear have established clearing links, and each has become a participant of the other to facilitate clearing and settlement of cross-boundary trades initiated from their own markets. HKSCC and ChinaClear undertake settlement obligations of their respective clearing participants' cross-boundary trades and settles with the other clearing house.

As the national central counterparty of PRC's securities market, ChinaClear operates a comprehensive network of clearing, settlement and stock holding infrastructure. ChinaClear established a risk management framework and measures that are approved and supervised by CSRC. The possibility of ChinaClear defaulting is considered to be remote.

In the remote event that ChinaClear defaults as the host central counterparty in the PRC, for Northbound trades in China Connect Securities, HKSCC will in good faith, seek recovery of the outstanding stocks and monies from ChinaClear through available legal channels or through ChinaClear's liquidation. In turn, HKSCC will distribute the stocks or monies recovered to the Clearing and Settlement System participant on a pro-rata basis. In that event, investors may suffer delay in the recovery process or may not be able to fully recover their losses from ChinaClear.

11. Certain Disclosure Obligations

Under the applicable PRC rules, when an investor holds more than 5% of the issued shares of a SSE-listed or SZSE-listed company, the investor is required to disclose its interest within three working days to the listed company, report in writing to the CSRC and the SSE or SZSE respectively. During these three days, the investor cannot continue to trade the shares of that listed company. The investor is also required to disclose within three working days when a change in his shareholding reaches 5% or the change is less than 5% but results in the shares held by the investor falling below 5% and comply with the relevant trading rules in according to the applicable PRC rules.

12. Participation in Corporate Actions and Shareholders' Meetings

HKSCC will keep Central Clearing System participants informed of corporate actions of China Connect Securities. Hong Kong and overseas investors will need to comply with the arrangement and deadline specified by their respective brokers or custodians (i.e. Central Clearing System participants). The time for them to take actions for some types of corporate actions of China Connect Securities may be as short as one business day only. Therefore, investors may not be able to participate in some corporate actions in a timely manner.

HKSCC, in its capacity as nominee holder for Hong Kong and overseas investors, can attend shareholders' meetings as shareholder since it is the shareholder on record of SSE-listed or SZSE-listed companies. If the articles of association of a listed company does not prohibit the appointment of proxy or multiple proxies by its shareholders, when instructed, HKSCC will make arrangements to appoint investors as its proxies to attend shareholders' meetings. In applicable circumstances and under the relevant regulations and requirements, investors may, through their Clearing and Settlement System participants, pass on proposed resolutions to listed companies via HKSCC.

In addition, any corporate actions in respect of China Connect Securities will be announced by the relevant issuer through the SSE website or the SZSE website and certain officially appointed newspapers. Investors engaged in trading of China Connect Securities may refer to the SSE website or the SZSE website and the relevant newspapers for the latest listed company announcements or, alternatively, SEHK's website, for corporate actions in respect of China Connect Securities issued on the previous trading day. However, SSE-listed or SZSE-listed issuers publish corporate documents in Chinese only, and English translations will not be available.

13. No Protection under the Investor Compensation Fund

Investment through China Connect is conducted through broker(s), and is subject to the risks of default by such brokers' in their obligations. Trading under the Northbound Trading Link is not covered by Hong Kong's Investor Compensation Fund. In addition, Hong Kong investors trading under the Northbound Trading Link are not protected by the China Securities Investor Protection Fund.

14. Regulatory Risk

China Connect may be subject to new regulations, which may be promulgated from time to time by the regulators in connection with operations and cross-border legal enforcement action and co-operation under China Connect.

The regulations are untested and there is no certainty as to how they will be applied. In addition, the current regulations are subject to change. There can be no assurance that China Connect will not be abolished. Investors trading through China Connect may be adversely affected as a result of such changes.

15. Application of PRC Laws, Rules and Regulations

China Connect Securities traded through the Northbound Trading Link under China Connect remain subject to the relevant PRC laws, rules and regulations, including (without limitation) foreign shareholding restrictions, disclosure requirements in respect of substantial holdings, etc. Any change in the relevant laws, rules and/or regulations may adversely affect investors' investment. Investors are solely responsible for compliance with all notifications, reporting, disclosures and other relevant requirements in connection with their interests in China Connect Securities.

16. Currency Risk

Northbound investments in China Connect Securities will be traded and settled in RMB. If you hold a local currency other than RMB, you will be exposed to currency risks if you invest in a RMB product. Investors may also incur currency conversion costs.

Risk of Trading in Futures Contracts and Options

The risk of loss in trading futures contracts or options is substantial. In some circumstances, you may sustain losses in excess of your initial margin funds. Placing contingent orders, such as "stop-loss" or "stop-limit" orders, will not necessarily avoid loss. Market conditions may make it impossible to execute such orders. You may be called upon at short notice to deposit additional margin funds. If the required funds are not provided within the prescribed time, your position may be liquidated. You will remain liable for any resulting deficit in your account. You should therefore study and understand futures contracts and options before you trade and carefully consider whether such trading is suitable in the light of your own financial position and investment objectives. If you trade options you should inform yourself of exercise and expiration procedures and your rights and obligations upon exercise or expiry.

Trading in Futures Contracts and options is not suitable for many members of the public. In light of the risks in trading in Futures Contracts and options, you should only undertake such transactions if you understand the nature of the contracts (and contractual relationships) into which you are entering and the extent of your exposure to risk. You should carefully consider whether trading is appropriate for you in light of your experience, objectives, financial resources and other relevant circumstances.

Futures Contracts

1. Effect of "Leverage" or "Gearing"

Transactions in futures carry a high degree of risk. The amount of initial Margin is small relative to the value of the futures contract so that transactions are "leveraged" or "geared". A relatively small market movement will have a proportionately larger impact on the funds you have deposited or will have to deposit: this may work against you as well as for you. You may sustain a total Loss of initial Margin funds and any additional funds deposited with the firm to maintain your position. If the market moves against your position or Margin levels are increased, you may be called upon to pay substantial additional funds on short notice to maintain your position. If you fail to comply with a request for additional funds within the time prescribed, your position may be liquidated at a Loss and you will be liable for any resulting deficit.

2. Risk-reducing Orders or Strategies

The placing of certain orders (e.g. "stop-loss" orders, or "stop-limit" orders) which are intended to limit Losses to certain amounts may not be effective because market conditions may make it impossible to execute such orders. Strategies using combinations of positions, such as "spread" and "straddle" positions may be as risky as taking simple "long" or "short" positions.

Options

1. Variable Degree of Risks

Transactions in options carry a high degree of risk. Purchasers and sellers of options should familiarise themselves with the type of option (i.e. put or call) which they contemplate trading and the associated risks. You should calculate the extent to which the value of the options must increase for your position to become profitable, taking into account the premium and all transaction costs.

The purchaser of options may offset or exercise the options or allow the options to expire. The exercise of an option results either in a cash settlement or the purchaser acquiring or delivering the underlying interest. If the option is on a futures contract, the purchaser will acquire a futures position with the associated liabilities for the Margin (see the section on Futures Contracts above). If the purchased options expire and become worthless, you will suffer a total Loss from your investment which will consist of the option premium plus the transaction costs. If you are contemplating on purchasing deep-out-of-the-money options, you should be aware that the chance of such options becoming profitable ordinarily is remote.

Selling (“writing” or “granting”) an option generally entails considerably greater risks than purchasing options. Although the premium received by the seller is fixed, the seller may sustain a Loss well in excess of that amount. The seller will be liable for additional Margin to maintain the position if the market moves unfavourably. The seller will also be exposed to the risk of the purchaser exercising the option and the seller will be obligated to either settle the option in cash or to acquire or deliver the underlying interest. If the option is on a futures contract, the seller will acquire a position in a Futures Contract with associated liabilities for Margin (see the section on Futures Contracts above). If the option is “covered” by the seller holding a corresponding position in the underlying interest or a Futures Contract or another option, the risks may be reduced. If the option is not covered, the risk of Loss can be unlimited.

Certain Exchanges in some jurisdictions permit deferred payment of the option premium, exposing the purchaser to liability for Margin payments not exceeding the amount of the premium. The purchaser is still subject to the risk of losing the premium and transaction costs. When the option is exercised or expires, the purchaser is responsible for any unpaid premium outstanding at that time.

Additional risks common to Futures and Options

1. Terms and Conditions of Contracts

You should ask about the terms and conditions of the specific futures or options which you are trading and associated obligations (e.g. the circumstances under which you may become obliged to make or take delivery of the underlying interest of a futures contract and, in respect of options, expiration dates and restrictions on the time for exercise). Under certain circumstances, the specifications of outstanding contracts (including the exercise price of an option) may be modified by the Exchange or the clearing house to reflect changes in the underlying interest.

2. Suspension or Restriction of Trading and Pricing Relationships

Market conditions (e.g. illiquidity) and/or the operation of the rules of certain markets (e.g. the suspension of trading in any contract or contract month because of price limits or “circuit breakers”) may increase the risk of Loss by making it difficult or impossible to effect transactions or liquidate/offset positions. If you have sold options, this may increase the risk of Loss.

Further, normal pricing relationships between the underlying interest and the futures, and the underlying interest and the option may not exist. This can occur when, for example, the futures contract underlying the option is subject to price limits while the option is not subject to price limits. The absence of an underlying reference price may make it difficult to judge the “fair value”.

3. Deposited Cash and Property

You should familiarise yourself with the protections given to money or other properties you deposit for domestic and foreign transactions, particularly in the event of insolvency or bankruptcy of the firm. The extent to which you may recover your money or property may be governed by specific legislations or local rules. In some jurisdictions, property which had been specifically identifiable as your own will be calculated pro-rata in the same manner as cash for purposes of distribution in the event of a shortfall.

4. Commission and other charges

Before you begin to trade, you should obtain a clear explanation of all commission, fees and other charges for which you will be liable. These charges will affect your net profit (if any) or increase your Loss.

5. Transactions in other jurisdictions

Transactions on markets in other jurisdictions, including markets formally linked to a domestic market, may expose you to additional risks. Such markets may be subject to regulations which may offer different or diminished investor protection. Before you trade you should enquire about any rules relevant to your particular transactions. Your local regulatory authority will be unable to compel the enforcement of the rules of regulatory authorities or markets in other jurisdictions where your transactions have been effected. You should ask for details about the types of redress available in both your home jurisdiction and other relevant jurisdictions before you start to trade.

6. Currency Risks

The profits or Losses in transactions in foreign currency-denominated contracts (whether they are traded in your own or another jurisdiction) will be affected by fluctuations in currency rates where there is a need to convert from the denominated currency of the contract to another currency.

7. Trading Facilities

Electronic trading facilities are supported by computer-based component systems for the order-routing, execution, matching, registration or clearing of trades. As with all facilities and systems, they are vulnerable to temporary disruption or failure. Your ability to recover certain Losses may be subject to limits on liability imposed by the system provider, the market, the clearing house and/or participant firms. Such limits may vary; you should ask for details in this respect.

8. Electronic Trading

Trading on an electronic trading system may differ from trading on other electronic trading systems. If you undertake transactions on an electronic trading system, you will be exposed to risks associated with the system, including the failure of hardware and software. The result of any system failure may be that your order is either not executed according to your Instructions or is not executed at all.

9. Off-exchange Transactions

In some jurisdictions, and only then in restricted circumstances, firms are permitted to effect off-exchange transactions. The firm you deal with may be acting as your counterparty to the transaction. It thus may be difficult or impossible to liquidate an existing position, to assess the value, to determine a fair price or to assess the exposure to risks. For these reasons, these transactions may involve increased risks. Off-exchange transactions may be less regulated or subject to a separate regulatory regime. Before you undertake such transactions, you should familiarise yourself with the applicable rules and risks.

Risks of Trading RMB Products

RMB products involve specific risks. You should give careful consideration to the following factors, among others, in evaluating the merits and suitability of such investments. The value of RMB products may fall as well as rise and the amount originally invested may not be returned to you. Different RMB products are subject to different risks. You should read the relevant terms and conditions and risk disclosure statement before making any investment decision. The following risks should be carefully considered by you, but the list does not purport to be exhaustive.

1. RMB Currency Risks

RMB is not currently fully and freely convertible and conversion of RMB through banks in Hong Kong is subject to a daily limit. You should allow time for the exchange of RMB from/to another currency in the case of RMB conversions exceeding the daily limit.

For RMB products that are not denominated in RMB or with underlying assets that are not RMB denominated, such products will be subject to multiple currency conversion costs involved in making investments and liquidating investments, as well as RMB exchange rate fluctuations and bid/offer spreads when assets are sold to meet redemption requests and other capital requirements (e.g. settling operation expenses).

The PRC government regulates currency conversions between RMB and other currencies. If restrictions on RMB convertibility and the limitations on the flow of RMB funds between the PRC and Hong Kong become more stringent, the depth of the RMB market in Hong Kong may become further limited.

2. Currency Exchange Risks

RMB products are subject to exchange rate fluctuations which may provide both opportunities and risks. If you choose to convert RMB to other currencies at an exchange rate that is less favorable than the rate at which you originally made the RMB conversion, you may suffer Loss.

3. Interest Rate Risks

The PRC government has gradually liberalised the regulation of interest rates in recent years. Further liberalisation may increase the volatility of interest rates. For RMB products that are, or that may invest in RMB debt instruments, such instruments are susceptible to interest rate fluctuations, which may adversely affect the return and performance of the RMB products.

4. Limitation on the Provision of RMB Funding

You should have RMB bank accounts and ensure that you have sufficient RMB for settlement and clearing purposes. If you do not have sufficient RMB funding to subscribe for RMB products, subject to compliance with all Applicable Laws, we may assist you in converting other currencies that you hold to RMB. However, we do not guarantee that this can provide sufficient RMB funding for you, due to the limitation on the flow of RMB funds in Hong Kong. We may unwind your trades due to insufficient RMB funding and your investment may be adversely affected if you suffer Losses due to settlement failures.

5. Limited availability of Underlying Investments denominated in RMB

For RMB products that are not eligible to invest directly in the PRC, their available choice of underlying investments denominated in RMB outside the PRC may be limited. Such limitation may adversely affect the return and performance of such RMB products.

6. No Guaranteed Projected Returns

For some RMB investment products, their return may not be guaranteed or may only be partly guaranteed. You should carefully read the statement of illustrative return attached to such products and in particular, the assumptions on which the illustrations are based, including, for example, any future bonuses or dividend declarations.

7. Long Term Commitment

For RMB products which involve a long period of investment, if you redeem the investment before the maturity date or during the lock-up period (if applicable), you may incur a significant Loss of principal if the proceeds are substantially lower than the invested amount. You may also suffer from early surrender/ withdrawal fees and charges as well as Loss of returns (where applicable) as a result of redemption before the maturity date or during lock-up period.

8. Issuer Risks/Counterparty Risks

RMB products are subject to credit and insolvency risks of their issuers. Prospective investors should carefully consider the creditworthiness of the issuers before investing. As RMB products may invest in derivative instruments, counterparty risks may also arise because a default by derivative issuers may adversely affect the performance of the RMB products and result in substantial Losses.

9. Liquidity Risks

RMB is less liquid than other currencies. RMB products may not be regularly traded or may not have an active secondary market. You should be aware that payments and redemptions of RMB products may not always be made within the expected timescales, or may have to be sold at a deep discount to its value.

10. Possibility of not receiving RMB upon redemption

For RMB products with a significant portion of non-RMB denominated underlying investments, there is a possibility of not receiving the full amount in RMB upon redemption. This may be the case if the issuer is not able to obtain a sufficient amount of RMB in a timely manner, due to the exchange controls and restrictions applicable to the currency.

If you fail to do so, we may without any liability on our part:

- (a) in the case of a purchase Transaction, sell the purchased Securities and/or any other Securities which we hold on your behalf to satisfy your obligation; and

Securities held in custody are subject to the Applicable Laws and regulations of the relevant jurisdiction.

3. SHORT SELLING

- 3.1 You acknowledge that Applicable laws and regulations may prohibit us from placing a sale order on your behalf when the order relates to Securities which you do not own (“Short Selling Order”). - 3.2 In addition, and without prejudice to the foregoing, you agree to expressly inform us when a sell order is in respect of Securities which you do not own (that is, where a Transaction is a short sale) at the time of giving the Instructions to effect that sale. If you do not inform us that a sale is a short sale, we will be entitled to assume that the sale in question is not a short sale.
- 3.3 You acknowledge that we have a right to request delivery of a copy of documentary evidence relating to the relevant Securities borrowing transaction e.g. the lender's confirmation.
- 3.4 Each market has its own Applicable Laws relating to short selling, and you acknowledge and agree to comply with the relevant requirements in the relevant market(s) every time you short sell any Securities.

3. Client Assets

You understand that all monies, Securities and other properties received by us from you or from any other person (including a clearing house) for your Accounts will be held by us as trustee and segregated from our own assets. - 1.2 We may only provide Margin financing to you for the purposes of “securities margin financing” as defined in Part 2 of Schedule 5 of the SFO. This means we can only offer you this particular service to facilitate the acquisition of Securities and the continued holding of these Securities (whether or not those or other Securities are pledged as security for the financing) and for no other purpose.
- 1.3 Where any conflict arises between this Client Agreement and the provisions of the Margin Client Agreement, the provisions of the latter shall prevail.

PART E: NEW LISTING OF SECURITIES

1. Applicability

2. Terms for New Listing of Securities

- 2.2 You authorise us to complete such application form as may be required, and represent and warrant to us that all representations, warranties, confirmations and undertakings in connection with the applicant contained or incorporated in the application form are true and accurate in respect of you.

You acknowledge and accept that the aforesaid declaration and warranty will be relied upon by us and by the issuer, sponsors, underwriters or placing agents of the relevant Securities, the Exchange or any other relevant regulator or person in respect of any application made by us as your agent;
 - (c) authorise us to represent and warrant to SEHK that no other Application will be made or will be intended to be made by you or for your benefit;
 - (d) acknowledge that any Application made by an unlisted company which does not carry on any business other than dealing in Securities and in respect of which you exercise statutory control will be deemed to be an Application made for your benefit; and
 - (e) acknowledge that we will rely on the above warranties, undertakings and authorisations in making the Application.
- 2.4 You recognize and understand that the legal, regulatory requirements and market practice in respect of applications for Securities may vary from time to time as may the requirements of any particular new listing or issue of Securities. You undertake to provide to us such information and take such additional steps and make such additional representations, warranties and undertakings as may be required in accordance with such legal, regulatory requirements and market practice as we may in our absolute discretion determine from time to time.
- 2.5 In relation to a bulk Application to be made by us on our own behalf, on your behalf and/or on behalf of any of our other clients, you acknowledge and agree:

- (a) that if the bulk Application is rejected in the absence of any fraud, gross negligence or willful default on our part, we will not be liable to you or any other person in consequence of such rejection;
- (b) to indemnify us in accordance with Clause 18 of this Client Agreement, if the bulk Application is rejected because of any breach of your representations and warranties, or of any other factor relating to you; and
- (c) notwithstanding Clause 6.15 of this Client Agreement, in the event that the bulk application is only partially filled, you agree that we are entitled to distribute the Securities allotted in our absolute discretion, including distributing the Securities equally between all clients under the bulk application and you shall not have any claim to the Securities or claim of priority to another client in relation to the application.

2.6 In relation to any Over-The-Counter (“OTC”) transactions, including without limitation trading of any New Securities before their listing on the Exchange, entered or to be entered into by you, you acknowledge and agree that:

- (a) subject to Clause 7.2 of this Client Agreement above, we are acting as your agent and do not guarantee the settlement of such OTC transactions;
- (b) your orders may be partially executed or not executed at all. Trades executed will be cancelled and void if the relevant security subsequently fails to list on the Exchange;

You shall bear all losses arising out of or in connection with such transaction;
- (d) in the event that (1) you buy Securities from a seller and such seller fails to deliver the relevant Securities and (2) the purchase of the relevant Securities cannot be effected or we in our absolute discretion determine not to purchase the relevant Securities pursuant to Clause 2.6 of this Part E of Annexure 2 (3) you will not be entitled to obtain the relevant Securities at the matched price and shall only be entitled to receive the money paid for the purchase of the relevant Securities;
- (e) in the event that you in buying any Securities fails to deposit the necessary settlement amount, we are entitled to sell any and all Securities or collateral held in your Account and use the sale proceeds after deducting all costs in settlement of the transaction. However, if you are the seller under such transaction and such transaction cannot be settled, you shall only be entitled to the relevant Securities but not the sale proceeds of the relevant Securities; and
- (f) without prejudice to the above, you shall bear your own losses or expenses and shall be responsible to us for any losses and expenses resulting from your and/or your counterparty's settlement failures.

- (d) subject to the Agreed Loan Terms:

- (e) the interest rate applicable to the Loan will be determined under the Agreed Loan Terms;

 - (i) apply the refund (in whole or in part) towards the discharge of the Loan including any interest accrued thereon; and/or
 - (ii) return the refund or the remaining balance (if any) to you, whether before or after the repayment date specified in the Agreed Loan Terms;
- (g) in consideration of our granting of the Loan to you, you charge to us by way of a first fixed charge as a continuing security (for the full repayment of the Loan and the accrued interest thereon,) (all the New Securities acquired on your behalf under the Application in respect of which the Loan is provided). You expressly authorise us to:
 - (i) accept and retain all documentation evidencing title to the New Securities that may be allotted by an issuer to you;
 - (ii) register any New Securities in our name in accordance with the provisions of the Agreed Loan Terms, until such time as you fully repay the Loan (including interest accrued thereon) to us;
 - (iii) collect and receive all dividends and other income payments and distribution in respect of any New Securities;
 - (iv) dispose of, or take any action we deem appropriate in respect of the New Securities, without prior notice to you for the discharge of the liabilities owing to us under the Loan, so long as the Loan (including interest thereon) has not been repaid in full; and
 - (v) retain any proceeds from the sale of New Securities pursuant to Clause 2.7(g)(iv) of this Part E of Annexure 2.

ANNEXURE 3 – ELECTRONIC SERVICES

1. Applicability

This Annexure 3 applies to the provision of Electronic Services by us to you.

2. Service and Equipment

2.1 All title, ownership rights and intellectual property rights in or relating to any software, hardware, application, interfaces and/or network communication device (together, the “Equipment”) provided in relation to the Electronic Services and any information transmitted in connection with or through the Electronic Services shall remain the exclusive property of Huarong, save and except for any information and Equipment which is proprietary to a third party.

2.2 We grant you a non-exclusive, non-sub licensable, and non-transferable licence (“Licence”) to access and use the Electronic Services and Equipment. In accepting this Licence, you agree that:

ANNEXURE 4 – CUSTODY OF CLIENT SECURITIES AND MONIES

1. Applicability

This Annexure 4 applies to you in respect of the custodial Services and activities described herein.

2. Custody of Securities

2.1 To the extent that you have requested that we provide custody Services and we have agreed to do so, we will establish one or more custody Accounts for the safekeeping of all Securities and other investment products which you deposit with us. We may place any or all of the Securities with custodians or sub-custodians such as correspondent banks, depositories or other institutions wherever located, on their customary terms and conditions or as agreed by us. We may commingle such Securities and investments with other Securities and investments held by us or our nominee on behalf of other clients.

2.2 Subject to Applicable Law, any Securities which are held by us for safekeeping may:

- (a) (in the case of registrable Securities) be registered in your name or in the name of a nominee appointed by us; or
- (b) be deposited in safe custody in a designated account with our bankers or with any other institutions which provide facilities for the safe custody of documents.

2.3 Where Securities are held by us or by our nominee on your behalf:

- (a) any dividends or other benefits arising in respect of such Securities will, when received by us, be credited to the Accounts or paid or transferred to you, as agreed with us. Where the Securities form part of a larger holding of identical Securities held for other clients, you will be entitled to the same share of the benefits in proportion with your holding;
- (b) we will comply with any directions received, in sufficient time to enable us to make the necessary arrangement from you as to the exercise of any voting or other rights attaching to or conferring on such Securities provided that if any payment or expense is required to be made or incurred in connection with such exercise, neither we nor our nominee shall be required to comply with any directions received from you unless and until we or our nominee receive all amounts necessary to fund such exercise;
- (c) we will use our reasonable efforts to give you notice of any necessary information which we receive in relation to any calls, rights, benefits, entitlements or obligations attached to or derived from such Securities which require Instructions from you;
- (d) we or our nominee may, but without any obligation or liability whatsoever, exercise any rights or perform any actions which may be exercisable in relation to any such Securities held for the Accounts, and where you have provided us or our nominee with any necessary Instructions and executed any applicable authorisations;
- (e) we will be under no duty to investigate, participate in or take affirmative action concerning attendance at meetings, voting or other rights attached to or derived from such Securities except in accordance with your Instructions;
- (f) we will have no duty or responsibility in respect of any proxy, circular, or other document received by us in respect of the Securities or to send any proxy, circular or other document or to give any notice of the receipt of the same to you except in accordance with your Instructions;

- (g) if we do not receive any instructions or in sufficiently reasonable time, we may take or omit to take any action;
- (h) you acknowledge and agree that you will be liable and we will have no responsibility for any liabilities in respect of unpaid calls or any other sums, costs or expenses payable in respect of any Securities held by us on your behalf; and
- (i) we or our nominee will not be required to deliver to or return to you the identical Securities delivered to or deposited with us provided that the Securities actually delivered or returned are of the same class, denomination and nominal amount and have equal rank in every respect with the Securities originally delivered or deposited subject to any capital reorganisation or conversion or other corporate action that may have occurred in the interim.

2.4 Mail addressed to you and received by us in connection with our provision of the custodial Services and activities will be forwarded unopened to the forwarding address supplied by you to us. We will not bear any responsibility for any delay howsoever caused in mail reaching your forwarding address. In particular, we will only receive, open or deal directly with mail which is addressed to you personally.

2.5 Securities held by us for safekeeping pursuant to this Clause are held by us at your sole risk. We will not be liable for the acts, omissions and/or Insolvency of any custodian or sub-custodian selected by us in good faith. Our only obligation to you in respect of the same is, at your cost and expense, to assign to you any rights of recourse in respect of the custodians or sub-custodians where the same are capable of being assigned under Applicable Law.

2.6 Insofar as any such Securities do not constitute “Collateral” as defined in any Margin Client Agreement entered into by Huarong and you, you hereby expressly authorize us to dispose of such Securities for the purpose of settling any liability owed by you (or who is the beneficial owner of such Securities) to us for dealing in Securities or financial accommodation provided by us to you which remains after we have disposed of all other assets designated as Collateral for securing the settlement of that liability.

2.7 We are entitled to, at any time, close any such custody Account(s) maintained in your name and/or on your behalf without ascribing any reason for doing so.

3. Client Monies

3.1 Subject to Applicable Law, we may deposit any cash held in any Accounts in one or more segregated account(s) with any financial institution.

3.2 You authorise us to place, withdraw and renew cash deposits in such currencies on your behalf and to debit the Accounts for any such deposits placed or renewed and to credit the Accounts for deposits withdrawn.

3.3 You agree that we may retain all or part of the interest accrued on all amounts held by us for or on account of you or pay to you interest on such amount at such rate as we may determine and notify you.

4. Client Money Standing Authority

- 4.1 The Client Money Standing Authority covers money held or received by Huarong in Hong Kong (including any interest derived from the holding of the money which does not belong to Huarong) in one or more segregated account(s) on your behalf (“Monies”).
- 4.2 You authorise Huarong to:
- (a) combine or consolidate any or all segregated accounts of any name whatsoever and either individually or jointly with others, maintained by Huarong and/or any of its Affiliates (together "Huarong International Group") from time to time and Huarong may transfer any sum of Monies to and between such segregated account(s) to satisfy your obligations or liabilities to Huarong International Group, whether such obligations and liabilities are actual, contingent, primary or collateral, secured or unsecured, or joint or several; and
 - (b) transfer any sum of Monies interchangeably between any of the segregated accounts maintained at any time by Huarong International Group.
- 4.3 You acknowledge and agree that Huarong may do any of the things set out in paragraph 4.2 above without giving you notice.
- 4.4 The Client Money Standing Authority is given without prejudice to other authorities or rights which Huarong or any of its Affiliates may have in relation to dealing in Monies in the segregated account(s).
- 4.5 The Client Money Standing Authority shall be valid for a period of not more than 12 months from the date of this Client Agreement, subject to renewal by you or deemed renewal set out in paragraph 4.7 below.
- 4.6 The Client Money Standing Authority may be revoked by you giving written notice to Huarong at the address specified in the said authority. Such notice shall take effect upon the expiry of two weeks from the date of our actual receipt of such notice.
- 4.7 You understand that the Client Money Standing Authority shall be deemed to be renewed on a continuing basis without your written consent if Huarong issues to you a written reminder at least 14 days prior to the expiry date of the said authority, and you do not object to such deemed renewal before such expiry date.

5. Security Interest, Collateral and Right of Use

- 5.1 As continuing security for the payment and discharge of all obligations and liabilities, you agree to charge, by way of first fixed charge in favour of us, with full title guarantee and free from any adverse interest whatsoever, the Custody Assets and all of your rights, title or interest in, to or under any contract with us (subject to the set-off, consolidation and other rights we have under this Client Agreement) whether arising prior to the date of this Client Agreement or thereafter and whether liquidated, unliquidated, fixed, contingent, matured, unmatured, disputed, undisputed, legal, equitable, financial, physical, secured or unsecured (“Security Interest”). For the purpose of this paragraph 5, “Custody Assets” means the cash, Securities, funds, and/or other assets or collateral (including any Margin delivered to us or as directed by us) that we have agreed with you to take custody of.
- 5.2 The Security Interest will remain in full force and effect by way of continuing security and will not be affected in any way by any settlement of your Accounts or other matter whatsoever and will be in addition to any other security, guarantee or indemnity now or hereafter held by us.

- 5.3 You irrevocably authorise us at any time after the occurrence of an Event of Default, if any amount due to us from you has not been paid when due (or on demand, if so payable):
- (a) to sell or otherwise realise all or any of the Custody Assets in such manner, at such time and to such person as we think fit; and
 - (b) to apply the proceeds of sale in or towards the discharge of your obligations and liabilities in such order and manner as we think fit.

We will use reasonable efforts to obtain the best price available in the circumstances for any sales or realisations of the Custody Assets.

- 5.4 At your request, we may permit you to dispose of or otherwise deal with any of the Custody Assets. You will not otherwise be entitled to dispose of or otherwise deal with any of the Custody Assets. If at any time we consent to such disposal or dealing, such consent will in no way constitute a waiver of our right to refuse to give our consent to any other request.

- 5.5 You agree that we may, and authorise us to, at any time borrow, lend, pledge, charge, rehypothecate, dispose of or otherwise use for our own purposes any Custody Assets which are for the time being subject to the Security Interest without giving notice of such borrowing, lending, pledge, charge, rehypothecation, disposal or other use to you. We may retain for our own account all fees, profits and other benefits received in connection with any such borrowing, loan or use. Upon:

- (a) borrowing, lending or other use of such Custody Assets will become our absolute property, free from the Security Interest and free from any equity, right or title of yours; and
- (b) a charge, pledge or rehypothecation of any Custody Assets, all of the Custody Assets, including your interest in those Custody Assets, will be subject to the charge or other Security Interest created by such charge, pledge or rehypothecation.

Upon any such use by us, you will have a right against us for the delivery of equivalent assets. We may deliver equivalent assets to you by causing such equivalent assets to be transferred, appropriated or designated to your Accounts. Such equivalent assets, will upon such transfer, appropriation or designation by us, become Custody Assets, subject to all of the provisions of this Client Agreement, including without limitation, the Security Interest and this Clause 5.5.

- 5.6 We agree that when the income is paid in relation to any investments which we have used pursuant to Clause 5.5, we will, on the date of payment of such income, pay and deliver a sum of money or property equivalent to such income to the Accounts, irrespective of whether such income was received by us.

- 1.2 References to “Account” in the Client Agreement is deemed to include the Margin Securities Account as established pursuant to this Margin Client Agreement.
- 1.3 “Client Securities Rules” means the Securities and Futures (Client Securities) Rules made pursuant to Section 148 of the Securities and Futures Ordinance as amended from time to time.
- 1.4 “Client Securities Standing Authority” means the client securities standing authority granted by you to us in the terms set out in Clause 5 as amended from time to time.
- 1.5 “Collateral” means all monies and Securities of you which are now or which shall at any time hereafter be deposited with, transferred or caused to be transferred to or held by us or our Affiliates, or transferred to or held by any other person in circumstances where we accept the same as security for your obligations under the Account Agreement. The Collateral shall include those monies and securities that shall come into the possession, custody or control of us or our Affiliates from time to time for any purpose whatsoever (which shall include any additional or substituted securities and all dividends or interest paid or payable, rights, interest, monies or property accruing at any time by way of redemption, bonus, preference, options or otherwise on or in respect of any such Securities or additional or substituted Securities).

- 1.7 “Margin Ratio” is the percentage of the value of the Collateral up to which you are permitted to borrow (or otherwise to secure other forms of financial accommodation) from us against the Collateral.

2. Margin Facility

- 2.1 The Facility is extended to you in accordance with the provisions set out in this Margin Client Agreement, any fees and charges sheet from us to you and in the Client Agreement (collectively called “Margin Facility Terms”). You agree to use the Facility only in connection with the acquisition or holding of Securities by us for you.

- 2.2 Subject to Clause 2.4 below, we may grant you Facility of such amount up to the Credit Limit as may be notified to you from time to time. The Credit Limit available to you and the Margin Ratio may be varied by notice by us from time to time. Notwithstanding the credit limit as notified to you, we may at its discretion extend Facility to you in excess of the Credit Limit and you agree that you shall be liable to repay the full amount of any Facility given by us in accordance with Clause 2.6.
- 2.3 We are instructed and authorized by you to draw on the Facility to settle any amounts due to us or our Affiliates in respect of your purchase of Securities, margin maintenance obligations for any positions required by us or our Affiliates, or payment of any commission or other costs and expenses owing to us or our Affiliates.
- 2.4 We will not at any time be obliged to provide any Facility to you. In particular, you understand that we may not provide any Facility to you if any of the following circumstances should arise:
- (i) you are in default of any provisions of the Account Agreement; or
 - (ii) in the opinion of us there is or has been a material adverse change in your financial condition or in the financial condition of any person which might adversely affect your ability to discharge your liabilities or perform your obligations under the Account Agreement; or
 - (iii) making an advance would cause the applicable Credit Limit to be exceeded; or
 - (iv) we in our absolute discretion consider it prudent or desirable for our protection not to do so.
- 2.5 For so long as there exists any indebtedness to us on your part, we shall be entitled at any time and from time to time to refuse any withdrawal of any or all of the Collateral and you shall not without the prior written consent of us be entitled to withdraw any Collateral in part or in whole from your Account.
- 2.6 You shall on demand from us make payments of deposits or Margin in monies, Securities and/or other assets in such amount and in such form into a designated account and within such time as specified by us (referred to as a “Margin Call”), as we in our absolute discretion determine necessary to provide adequate security in respect of the Facility. For the purpose of a Margin Call, we shall use our reasonable endeavours to contact you promptly by phone on the telephone numbers indicated by you on the Account Application Form and/or by sending to you a Margin Call notice by post, fax, email or otherwise. You agree that you shall be deemed properly notified of the Margin Call even if we fail to contact it by phone or you fail to receive the written notice.
- 2.7 Any failure by you to comply with Clause 2.6 of this Margin Client Agreement will constitute an Event of Default under Clause 21 of the Client Agreement.

2.8 You agree to pay interest on a daily basis on the amount of Facility extended to you. The interest rate shall be at a percentage above our cost of funds which will vary according to the prevailing money market situation and as notified to you by us from time to time. Such interest charges may be deducted by us from the Margin Securities Account or any other account of you with us or our Affiliates.

3. Transactions on a Margin Basis

3.1 You agree to provide us with the Margin, as notified by us to you, before entering into any Transaction (“Margin Requirement”). The Margin Requirement varies with each type of Transaction and the amount is determined by us in our discretion. Notwithstanding the entry into the Transaction, the Margin required may be changed at any time by us. You must satisfy any and all Margin Requirements immediately as a condition to entering into any Transaction and we may decline to enter into a Transaction if you do not have sufficient Margin in your Margin Securities Accounts to satisfy the Margin Requirement for that Transaction at the time the relevant order is placed.

3.2 The Margin will be provided by pledging or assigning or charging assets acceptable to us. The valuation of the Margin is made according to our prevailing practices.

3.3 The Margin provided by you may fall below the Margin Requirement due to various reasons including, without limitation, book Losses arising from mark-to-market valuation of outstanding Transactions, Losses arising from closed-out Transactions or a fall in the value of the Margin. If we determine that the Margin is less than the Margin Requirement, we may take such action, including without limitation:

- (a) calling upon you on short notice to provide such additional Margin as we determine. This amount may be substantial and may exceed the amount originally committed as Margin;
- (b) realising part or all of the Margin as we deem necessary to satisfy your liability without notice to or consent from you; and/or
- (c) closing out, liquidating, setting off (notwithstanding that any of the same has not yet matured), realising or otherwise dealing with any or all outstanding Transactions (whether or not any additional Loss may thereby arise) by such time and by such means or in such manner as we consider appropriate without notice to or consent from you. If the Transactions are liquidated at a Loss and the Loss exceeds the aggregate Margin deposited, you will be liable for any shortfall.

3.4 Subject to the Applicable Laws, Margin will not be required where we have expressly agreed to reduce or waive all or part of your Margin Requirement. The period of such waiver or reduction may be temporary or may be in place until further notice. Any such waiver or reduction must be agreed in writing by us and will not limit, fetter or restrict in any way our right to seek further Margin from you.

3.5 We will be entitled at any time to retain or make deductions from credit balances which we owe to you and you consent to the money in your Accounts being subject to a general lien in our favour in order to meet any liabilities which you may have incurred to us, for example, for sums to be paid in settlement of Transactions or Margin Call.

3.6 The high degree of leverage resulting from a relatively small Margin Requirement can work against you as well as in your favour. The use of leverage may result in large Losses as well as gains. You should therefore consider the suitability of transacting with us on a Margin basis carefully in light of your financial positions and investment objectives.

4 Charge

4.1 Fixed Charge

You, as beneficial owner, charge in favour of us by way of first fixed charge all your respective rights, title, benefits and interests in and to all Collateral as a continuing security (“Charge”) for the payment and satisfaction on demand of all monies and liabilities (absolute or contingent) and performance of all obligations under the Margin Facility Terms which are now or at any time hereafter may be due, owing or incurred from or by you to us or our Affiliates, or for which you may be or become liable to us or our Affiliates on any account or in any manner whatsoever (whether alone or jointly with any other person and in whatever name style or firm) together with interest from the date of demand to the date of repayment, and any commission, legal and other costs, charges and expenses as they appear in the records of us or our Affiliates. Unless and until rebutted, a certificate issued and signed by our authorised officer shall become the final evidence on the amount due or owing from you to us.

4.2 Floating Charge

- 4.2 The Charge shall be a continuing security notwithstanding any intermediate payment or settlement of account or satisfaction of the whole or any part of any sum owing by you to us and/or our Affiliates and notwithstanding the closing of any of your accounts with us and which are subsequently reopened or the subsequent opening of any account by you either alone or jointly with others and shall extend to cover all or any sum of monies which shall for the time being constitute the balance due from you to us or our Affiliates on any account or otherwise.
- 4.3 You represent and warrant that the Collateral is legally and beneficially owned by you, that you are entitled to deposit the Collateral with us or our Affiliates that the same is and will remain free from any lien, charge or encumbrance of any kind, and any stocks, shares and other securities comprised in the Collateral are and will be fully paid up.
- 4.4 Upon irrevocable payment in full of all sums which may be or become payable under the Client Agreement and the full performance of your obligations under the Margin Facility Terms, we will at your request and expense release to you all the rights, title and interests of us in the Collateral and will give such Instructions and directions as you may require in order to perfect such release.
- 4.5 Until the Charge becomes enforceable, (i) we will have the right, subject only to giving you notice, to exercise rights relating to the Collateral to protect the value of the Collateral; and (ii) except as otherwise provided in this Margin Client Agreement, you may direct the exercise of other rights attaching to, or connected with, the Collateral, but not in any manner which is inconsistent with your obligations under the Margin Facility Terms, or which in any way may prejudice our rights in relation to the Collateral.

5 Powers of Attorney

You by way of security irrevocably appoint us to be your attorney on your behalf and in your name to do all acts and things and to sign, seal, execute, deliver, perfect and do all deeds, instruments, documents, acts and things which may be required for carrying out any obligation imposed on you by or pursuant to the Margin Facility Terms and generally for enabling us to exercise the respective rights and powers conferred on us by or pursuant to the Margin Facility Terms or by law including (but without limitation):

- (i) to execute any transfer or assurance in respect of any of the Collateral;
- (ii) to perfect its title to any of the Collateral;
- (iii) to ask, require, demand, receive, compound and give a good discharge for any and all monies and claims for monies due or to become due under or arising out of any of the Collateral;
